

Spellbinding Psychological 'Left Behind' Computer Games are Stealing the Minds and Souls of Children

Dr. Pat Holliday's new blockbuster, explosive new book, "Charts Computer Games ~ Sci Fi Films ~ Demons Attacking Christian Children" reveals that the demonic forces that are taking into custody the minds and souls of children and turning them into robots. Satan is boldly striking from within the Church and both adults and children are being robbed of their Christian faith. <http://www.prweb.com/releases/2008/04/prweb835054.htm>.

Jacksonville, Florida (PRWEB) April 7, 2008 -- Dr. Holliday's new book exposes the new video game called Left Behind -- Eternal Forces Game, which embraces power of demon possession, violence and killing is inspired by the best-selling Left Behind novels of the earth's last days concerning "The Rapture of the Church," by Tim LaHaye and Jerry B. Jenkins. The demons of violence, paganism, fantasy and wizardry are mainlined themes for Christian children. This so called "Christian" video game releases children under the influence of subliminal mind control and turning them into puppets. The computer is one of the most mind-capturing instruments ever invented. It can be used for good but Satan's agents are certainly taking advantage of it for evil.

Dr. Holliday's new book reveals "The modern child's world is being bombarded with occult oriented books such as The Children of the New Age (<http://www.patholliday.com/>) and rock records, pornographic magazines and images of animals and people, ungodly cartoon tapes, witchcraft satanic computer games, sci-fi films and children's toys. Disney World and Warner fantasy movies that have also become evangelistic tools for Christian children. Their minds are jam-packed with violence, monsters, fantasies, demons, witches, wizards, robots, zombies like creatures and devils of all shapes and forms. The Bible warns, 'Although they claimed to be wise, they became fools and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images made to look like mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles,' (Rom. 1:22)." She also notes, "Webster's defines fantasy as imagination or fancy, especially wild, visionary fancy; unreal mental images; illusions; phantasms; whim; queer notions; caprice; an imaginative poem, play, etc.; in psychology, a mental image as in a day dream."

Dr. Holliday cautions, "How can a child be influenced to readily accept demons? Are we opening our Christian children to new forms of spell-binding psychological addiction?" She says that it is clear that "Left Behind -- Eternal Forces" game will draw the child or adult becomes the master of their new world and forget that our world is a world where every person is dependent on their family or friends. There is certainly no room for the God of the Bible to be influential over their lives. "Every idea is an imitation of the supernatural, where God is replaced with a strange mystical power that clearly identifies the world of Lucifer and his devils. Possession by devils is the apparent goal of the creator or, at the least, the goal of the powers that control their lives."

Dr. Holliday informs, "Children are in trouble, serious trouble." Her new book chronicles the demonology that charts demonic forces, teaching parents and ministers how to deliver the children. She cites the problem as coming from spiritually blinded, worldly "Christian" leaders who are pursuing powerful demonic global agendas that will take Christians into the emerging pagan oriented churches and counterfeit new world religious systems. She says, "Left Behind video games have absolutely nothing to do with the Bible or Jesus. The metaphysical capture of the souls and minds of the youth are secret goals to turn them to another gospel, another spirit and another Jesus capture them into global citizens. Fingments of the imagination and children's false religious impressions are escalating because our Christian churches and many spiritual leaders are sleeping."

Dr. Holliday claims, "Children are direct targets of Satan's darkness because parents are walking in agreement with his evil tactics. Sadly, in many instances, the Church leadership is spiritually bankrupt concerning truthful Biblical teaching and using its power of discernment concerning his fiendish powers. The Bible cautions 'Woe to those who call evil good and good evil,' (Isa. 5)." She recounts a recent incident at a local middle school relating to a student who was dealing drugs, and a boy reported him. Then the drug dealer brought a machete to school, hacked that boy, seriously hurting him. Meanwhile, at the same school, another student performed oral sex on a student in front of the teacher and class! Also, a policeman that was supposed to be protecting the students was dealing drugs.

"Are Christian Children Safe from Satan's Seduction?" Dr. Holliday asks the question. She answers her query by suggesting only if the parents wake up and take charge, stop letting their children watch demonic products. She tells us that, "The modern child's world is being barraged with occult oriented books, rock records, pornographic magazines and images of animals and people, ungodly cartoon tapes, witchcraft satanic computer games and children's toys and Disney World and Warner fantasy movies that have become evangelistic tools for Christian children. Their minds are jam-packed with violence, monsters, fantasies, demons, witches, wizards, robots, zombies like creatures and devils of all shapes and forms. The Bible warns, 'Although they claimed to be wise, they became fools and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images made to look like mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles' (Rom. 1:22)."

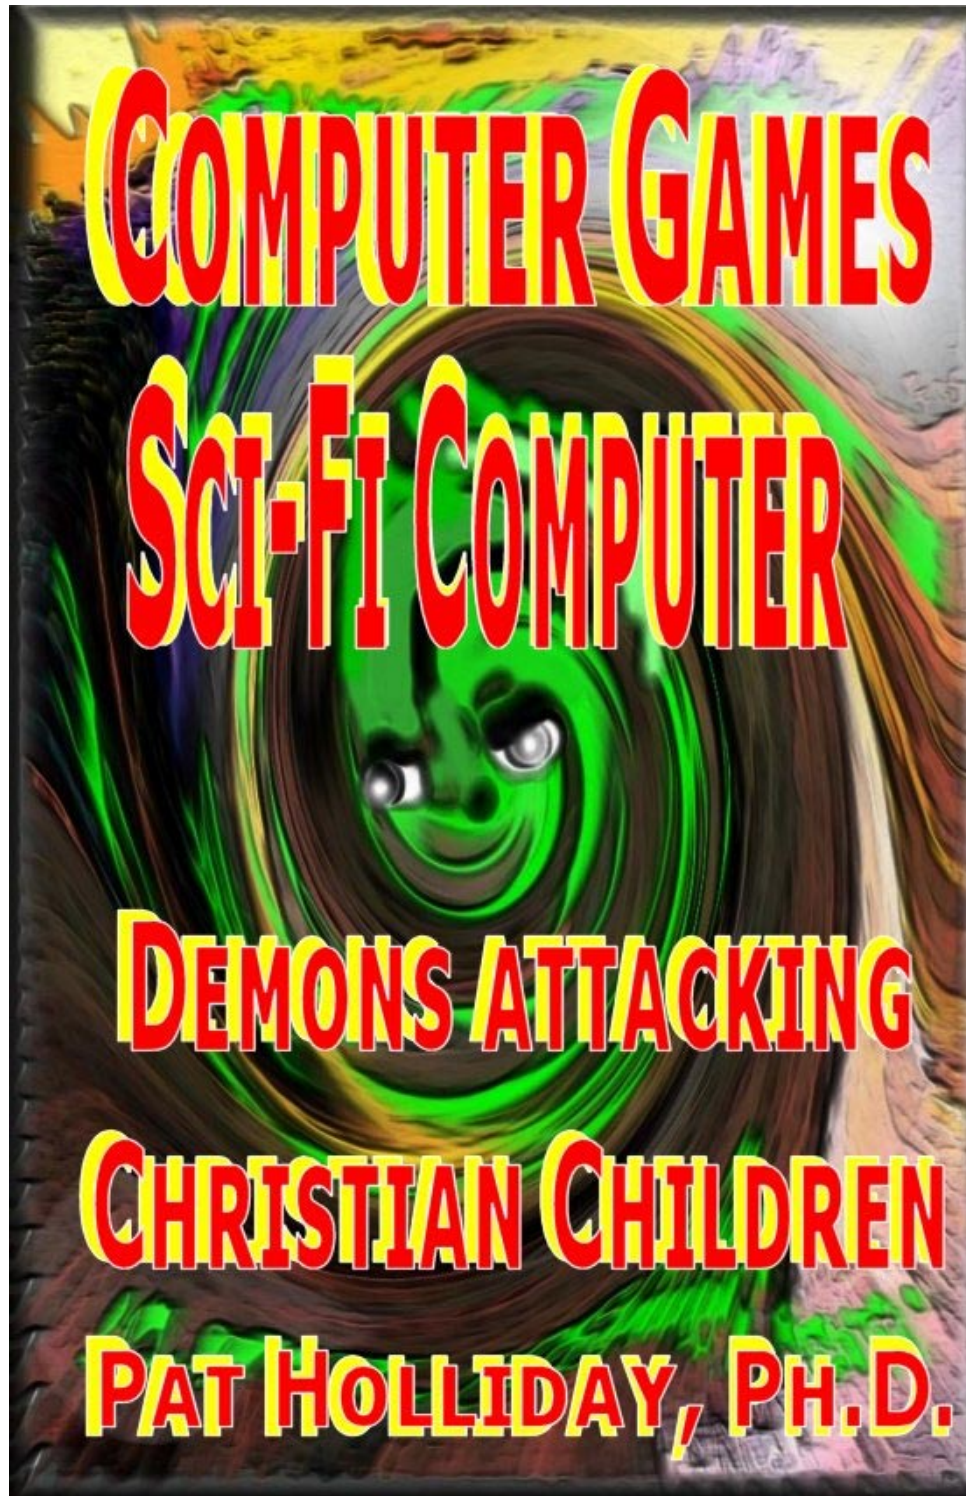

Dr. Holliday challenges parents to guard their children and advises that parents buy their children anything that their little hearts desire. "Many of these evil games will return to haunt them throughout their lives and even into eternity. Powers will arrive in their families that hardly the Western Christian has been trained to handle. God wants Christians to return to Him in prayer and commitments and He will lead them out of the great darkness that has arrived in our nation and our churches!"

She attacks the dead churches as being blind and weak and warns that children are getting demon possessed. "A children ministry couple from a large mega-church brought their own children to the author for deliverance. The little boy was three and the girl ten and they were both being tormented by demons. The girl was seeing scary demons in her room and confessed that she had an imaginary friend. She was also seeing 'shadow people.' The children desperately needed deliverance."

Dr. Holliday forewarns, "There can be no doubt about the flagrant way in which the forces of darkness are encompassing our land and people. This permissive society, with its blinding perversion and trappings of deceitful moral and spiritual values, is an appalling reality. The Bible speaks of the danger of ignorance in God's people (Hos. 4:6), and how risky it is even to bring certain articles that God forbids."

"I'm telling you," writes Dr. Holliday, "The church is sound asleep the reality of the spiritual attacks on Christian. These demonic powers are raging worldwide. They are ruling from the heavens, the earth and computer game enslavement on our children are real and their destructive work are widespread and happening now!"
